

Women & Divorce

What Financial Information Do I Need to Make Informed Decisions?

Divorce can be financially devastating, particularly for women.

Learn more about gaining the information needed to empower you to make informed decisions

Please join Karen Buckley, Esq. and Ellen Duffy, CFP™ for wine, appetizers, and a conversation on the financial implications of divorce. Women have unique financial challenges. Unfortunately, divorce is often financially devastating for women. Educate yourself about how to obtain the information you will need to make sound financial decisions and develop strategies for a foundation of financial well-being.
